Councilmember Castleberry said the purpose of this motion will move the vote on Public Safety Sales Tax to an August election.

Councilmember Jungman called a Point of Order. He said Council would not entertain public discussion on the date of the election and it is inappropriate for Councilmembers to engage in their own discussion on the date of the election.

Councilmember Castleberry said he is asking to postpone that notice.

Mayor Rosenthal said Councilmember Castleberry indicated the purpose of the motion was to move the election to August 2014 which clearly is amending the title. She asked the City Attorney if that motion was in order.

Mr. Jeff Bryant, City Attorney, said the motion was simply to move First Reading to a date certain and was not out of order.

Mayor Rosenthal stated her ruling stands and she entertained a motion to adopt Ordinance No. O-1314-33 upon First Reading by title.

Councilmember Castleberry objected to the Point of Order and asked for reconsideration.

Mayor Rosenthal said First Reading is not the opportunity to debate and talk about the substance of an item. First Reading is to give notice.

Mayor Rosenthal restated she would entertain a motion to adopt Ordinance No. O-1314-33 upon First Reading by title.

Councilmember Kovach called a Point of Order and stated the maker of the motion that had been overruled has the right to ask Council to vote on the ruling.

Mayor Rosenthal stated Council will stand in recess for five minutes.

Upon reconvening the meeting, Mayor Rosenthal ruled that a motion and second were on the floor before the Point of Order was made and she could not rule on the second Point of Order.

MISCELLANEOUS DISCUSSION

We Will Miss Sylvia Martin. Ms. Ann Gallagher, 1522 East Boyd Street, eulogized Ms. Sylvia Martin and the accomplishments and contributions that she made to the City of Norman during her lifetime. She respected and loved Sylvia and said words to describe her were pride, private, opinionated, sharing, feisty, fierce, dedicated, advocate, gourmet, connoisseur, needle crafter, and respected. She said Sylvia was a very private individual with a post office box. She said she did not allow anyone to ask how old she was because she considered that was no one's business as there were many things that were no one's business. Sylvia was almost 94 years old. She felt that everything should pass the sniff test, for example on her utility bill, she wanted a line item for the cost of taste and odor and was disappointed when she never got it. She shared information with anyone who would listen, especially candidates running for City Council and those opinions were valued. She asked the hard questions and came to every meeting that she was able to attend. She said Sylvia was even provided a chair and microphone of her own. Sylvia was an advocate for the citizens and all taxpayers. She ran for Mayor once and although she did not win, she was proud that she ran. Ms. Gallagher said she believed Sylvia and Charlie Schindler are up in heaven right now discussing how to save a dollar. Sylvia went door to door to talk about current issues and had a database of voters, how she contacted them, and what their responses were. Ms. Gallagher said people who wanted to know what was going on in the City were told to read Sylvia Martin's letters to the Editor because she had done her research and it was always the truth. She said when Sylvia talked, people listened and when issues came up, people asked Sylvia. She said Sylvia cared a lot about the City and City Staff. She said Ralph Martin delivered flowers and plants to City Staff that were unique. Sylvia also loved Christmas, had at least two Christmas trees every year, and the neighbors would bring their children over to see all of her handcrafted ornaments. She was a master at needle craft and cross-stitch, a gourmet cook, and a connoisseur of fine wine. She said the last statement Sylvia said to her niece in Minnesota was "Let's get this show on the road."

Mr. Roger Gallagher, 1522 East Boyd Street, said Sylvia was an amazing person. He became her chauffeur after Ralph passed away and took her to the Town Hall meetings in Oklahoma City, which were free and had a multitude of prominent speakers. He read a letter Sylvia had received from a friend eleven years ago. He said the letter captures the atmosphere of people like Sylvia who care about the City and continued to speak out even though they might not get results. He said she exemplified people who have a civic duty. She read every issue of the Journal Record and was a collector of many things including magazines from the 1950's in perfect condition. She was an incredible human being.

Mayor Rosenthal said on two occasions, Council tried to persuade Sylvia Martin to accept a nomination to the Citizens Honor Roll of Service and she declined that honor because of her desire to be behind the scenes and discreet. She is a presence that will be and has been missed.

Councilmember Kovach said one night he received a phone call from Sylvia and she gave him her secret phone number and made him promise to never give it out. He said she told him she liked some of the things he had to say but if he didn't lean into the microphone, she could not hear him and that is why he leans into the microphone. He said he misses her too and thanked Roger and Ann Gallagher who very privately helped Sylvia.

Councilmember Miller thanked Roger and Ann Gallagher for their Ode to Sylvia Martin, and said it was very touching. She said when she saw that Sylvia had passed away, she hoped that someone would say something. She said there aren't many people who can fill up a room the way she did, as long as she did, and as often as she did. She said there were many times she did not agree with her but she did know her stuff.

Sylvia Martin, continued. Councilmember Williams thanked Roger and Ann Gallagher for taking care of Sylvia. He said the first time he was invited to Sylvia's house and got her secret phone number, she and Ann had been riding around looking for debris that might be clogging water ways in Norman. She had said it would be a short meeting but it turned out to be a two and a half hour interview and at the conclusion of the meeting, she told him he was a pretty good young guy and that she would make a few phone calls for him. He said she pulled out a notepad with 70-80 names of personal friends that lived in Ward 8 and she called them. He said it was an honor to chat with her and he learned more about Norman in that meeting than he did knocking on several thousand doors.

Councilmember Holman said when he was in Middle School he remembered seeing Sylvia Martin at meetings. Later on, when he started attending meetings, he kept wondering who the lady was in the back of the room with her own microphone. He liked her distinct voice and her involvement with City Council. He said her words had a definite impact on him and he used her frequently as an example of why people should get involved. He thanked Roger and Ann for their kind words.

Councilmember Griffith said he had noticed several months ago that Roger and Ann took extra care to get Sylvia to the meetings. He said their insights about Sylvia were very meaningful. He never failed to walk into City Council Chambers without looking at her chair and she will be desperately missed.

Councilmember Castleberry said when he was appointed to Council, Sylvia Martin was sitting behind him and asked him who he was and when he told her his name, she asked him if he was an accountant. He told her yes and she told him that he better watch that budget. He told her he would try his best. He said Sylvia will be missed.

Water Conservation Plan. Mr. Roger Gallagher, 1522 East Boyd Street, said the City should work with developers to see if they will support installing gray water systems in new developments. He said it is not that much more expensive and the cost is passed on to the buyer. He said many gallons of water would be saved by using a gray water system in irrigation.

Different Type of Light Bulbs. Ms. Jacy Crosbie, 204 Mountain Oaks Drive, said the standard light bulb is being replaced with the Compact Fluorescent Light (CFL) bulb and Light Emitting Diodes (LED) light bulbs and the biggest difference between the two is the CFL bulb has mercury and the LED bulb does not. She said the City is very proactive with its annual Household Hazardous Waste event, however, it is possible that many of these CFL bulbs will be put in the landfill. She suggested placing information about the two types of bulbs on the website. She said the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) website has information at EPA.gov/mercurydisposal explaining what has to be done when this is a broken light bulb containing mercury. She urged citizens to choose the LED bulb.

Public Safety Sales Tax (PSST). Councilmember Kovach said tonight's debate was interesting because Council was told that they would have to move forward to have public discussion and he respectfully disagrees with that. He said the whole point is to have more public discussion. There were 35 items on tonight's agenda and all but two had unanimous votes, so Council does not disagree on a whole lot of things. He said when there are difference points of view and as long as people were respectful to one another, those disagreements were fine. He said he is glad there will be a public meeting and hopes many people will attend to give their opinions. He said he and Councilmember Castleberry were trying to get more public input and not trying to make the public feel that they were moving forward with a presupposed conclusion, because Council has been criticized for this in the past. He said there is a difference of opinion between some of the Councilmembers and he respects their opinions, but he disagrees.

Councilmember Miller said everyone on Council is very concerned about the PSST vote, really want to see it pass, and are really struggling with the best way to do this. She said although she has concerns about public perception on pushing it forward, moving it forward tonight leaves all options open. She said if it does not move forward tonight, then the one option of having an April election is off the table totally. She said Council has two weeks to listen to constituents and a public meeting. She said she got calls today because of the article in The Norman Transcript and she hoped that she would receive many more.

Public Safety Sales Tax (PSST) continued. Councilmember Williams said he voted the way he did because Councilmembers are looking for the same goal but have a different of opinion in how they should get there. He said not enough public input was the number one reason he had voted against it. He said changing the election date does not concern him but what does concern him is making sure the right thing moves forward. He said he did not like to pressure the public by sending something forward before the item is fully vetted.

Councilmember Castleberry said he had learned a very valuable lesson and thanked the Mayor and Councilmember Jungman for schooling him on Roberts Rules of Order. He said it is unfortunate that a technicality was used to quiet people. He said his point of tonight's discussion was to get more public input. He said one of the questions he wanted to discuss when he was call "Out of Order" was the Public Safety Impact Fee was mentioned by Professor Cynthia Rogers because he did not know what this was. When he moved to postpone the item, he did not know there was going to be a public meeting on January 21st and the Citizens Public Safety Oversight Committee is also meeting on Thursday, January 23rd. He said these meetings were scheduled today and if Council had been advised of this, the discussion would not have happened. He said there are no secret agendas and Council supports public safety. The question is "How do we do it?" He said there are other plans to explore and he has a plan to bring forward if given the chance to talk about it again. He said his plan will include making a portion of the sales tax permanent for the permanent expenses of salaries and taking a portion, 1/8%, and putting it into a PSST fund for capital improvements. He looks forward to discussing this plan because it meets all the needs and gives the City more money to do the capital projects. He said the date of the election is unimportant as long as everything is discussed fully and a solution is found in time. He said it is also possible that further discussion will bring out a new idea that no one has heard.

Mayor Rosenthal said having additional public meetings were discussed in last night's study session and it was not until early this afternoon that some time options became apparent and the decision was made to have a public meeting. She apologized to Council for not sending out emails about the public meeting. She said she also learned that the Citizen's Public Safety Oversight Committee was going to try to schedule a Special Meeting because they had asked for one when they did not have quorum at their last meeting. She said it was prior to this meeting that she learned they had been successful in finding a time. She apologized that this had not been sufficient notice but information was relayed as soon as it was received.

*

Lieutenant Royce O. Weddle Norman Police Firing Range. Councilmember Jungman thanked Councilmember Williams for his hard work in getting the renaming of the Police Fire Range accomplished. He said there is much to be done to comply with the Citizen Recognition Policy in order to name a facility after a citizen. He said it had all been done when Councilmember Williams came to him and the Mayor with the request. He said he knew the family was pleased with the honor.

*

Thanks to Traffic Division. Councilmember Holman said a dedicated left turn signal had recently been installed at the intersection of Chautauqua Avenue and Lindsey Street which really made a big difference in moving traffic. He thanked the Traffic Division and hoped this would happen at the Elm Street/Lindsey Street intersection as well.

*

Thanks for Attendance. Councilmember Holman thanked those who attended tonight's meeting and those who watched on television. He urged people to attend the Public Meeting at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, January 21st, in City Council Chambers.

*

Memorandum of Understanding. Councilmember Griffith said he attended many High Density meetings and this particular area of Norman is critical and central. He said the Memorandum of Understanding and the work that will be coming forward from the Committee will settle some very serious issues for this part of Norman and it has been extremely important to move forward.

*

Shop Norman. Councilmember Griffith said he wants to continue Councilmember Dan Quinn's words "Shop Norman" and he will continue to say that.

CITY MANAGER'S REPORT

Animal Welfare Renovation Project. The underground conduit has been installed and inspected and the slab be will poured later this week.

Storm Debris. The storm debris pickup began January 2, 2014. About 40-45% of the debris has been picked up and there is much to be done to finish the first pass. The Storm Debris contractor will be adding three additional crews on Thursday, January 23rd. Many citizens are expressing frustration at the pace of the pickup; however, this disaster was a Citywide event covering 200 square miles. It is important for citizens to understand that other storm events were only certain areas of the City and not City-wide. There are approximately 80 people working on the cleanup efforts including the contractor and City staff and many are working overtime. Everyone's patience is appreciated, it is hoped progress will be improved.

Sales Tax Report. January sales tax receipts have been received and there is an increase of 19.4% over last year. Last year sales tax was down approximately 9% because many retailers did not report their sales tax until February. Because of this, numbers will be up and down and it will be a few months before all totals have been received.

Budget Impacts. A summary report of General Fund revenues and expenditures was provided for the second quarter of FYE 2014 as well as significant trends in other funds. The FYE 2014 budget is $74.2 million, projected to date is $37.1 million, and approximately $36 million has been expended which is 2.5% below the project rate. A comparison of General Fund sales tax collections between FYE 2014 and FYE 2013 show an approximate 5% increase. A comparison of revenue reflects a decrease in Franchise Tax due to the mild summer; however, severe weather occurred during the last few weeks which has not yet been calculated. Revenues outpaced expenditures through November and during December, expenditures outpaced revenues. Hotel/Motel Room Tax revenues show an increase but part of the reason for this is that some months are at the 4% rate and the rest are at the new 5% rate. Residential water revenues show an increase which is a result of the impact the weather had during the summer.
