

Freedom Farms is a proposed local Agri-Wedding center nestled right on the corner of East Franklin Rd. and North Porter Ave., across from Hollywood Corners. With 130 acres of rolling hills, we are thrilled to be able to offer the Norman, Moore, metro and surrounding areas a location that speaks to both the modern bride, and one looking to feel at home with southern roots.

Our desire for Freedom Farms is to cultivate an atmosphere for families to come together, and celebrate the beginning of a couple's marriage. We will feature an indoor space, an outdoor gazebo, a main chapel area and an optional reception hall downstairs. With the many window views showcasing the rolling hills, cattle and beautiful, lush countryside, we anticipate many couples will fall in love with all of the natural light featured in the facility.

Freedom Farms will supply a specific area for florists, caterers, bar staff and any other vendors through our space at the far north end of the chapel. With a fully functioning kitchen, and floral workspace, we look forward to providing our vendors with the easiest workspace in the state.

One of the first things brides look for is a bridal suite. This will also be featured at the north end of the building, with plenty of counter space, lighting, and sitting area to house the largest of bridal parties.

We are excited for this opportunity to work with surrounding families, and showcase a little piece of Norman to all of those who enter Freedom Farms. Many people will not believe the beautiful landscape, and rolling hills that rest on this gorgeous piece of property in our city and we look forward to serving our surrounding communities.
